WhatsApp Introduces New Feature to Silence Unknown Callers

WhatsApp is rolling out a new feature that will allow users to silence calls from unknown numbers. The feature is currently available to beta testers, but it is expected to be rolled out to all users in the coming weeks.

To use the new feature, open WhatsApp and go to Settings > Privacy. Then, toggle on the Silence Unknown Callers switch.

When this feature is enabled, calls from unknown numbers will be muted. However, the calls will still appear in the Calls tab and in the notification center. This way, you can still see who called you, even if you don't want to be interrupted by the call.
